Reviewer overall recommendation

Considering the proposal as a whole, do you think FSC should fund this project as a worthwhile contribution to the skills ecosystem?

Overall Recommendation:

- I recommend this project for funding
- I recommend this project for funding conditional on changes and/or more information
- I do not recommend this project for funding

Explain your reasoning for this recommendation.

In general I think this is an excellent move for Canada's workforce. So many skills are gained through means that cannot readily be listed on a resume so it is great to see an initiative designed to address that gap. However, given the experience with the first phase of the project, and the objectives of Future Skills Canada, I find it odd that the project makes no effort to plan for the future. The emphasis seems to be on what today's workforce needs and the competencies that would align to those needs, but it might be more beneficial to ask industry to look ahead a year or two out to what roles they'll be hiring for then and work towards the competencies of those roles. The in-demand industries / jobs of today may not be the in-demand industries / jobs of mid-2023 when the tool will actually be rolled out.

Also, while I appreciate that this is an exploratory 'back to the drawing board' project, there was little evidence provided from the first phase that would suggest that either industry or potential employees are interested in engaging in this process.

Both of these issues hold me back from recommending it for funding but if they were to be addressed then the project has the potential to offer a strong contribution to Canada's workforce.

What do you think are the strongest aspects of this project?

I think the ability to say that the first phase of the project didn't go as planned but that they've learned and have rethought the project to address the issues from the first time around demonstrates a lot of strength, and the research will be better for it. The comprehensive list of learning questions is a good indication of this.

Where do you think the project has gaps or challenges?

The proposal did not articulate how job seekers would be involved in the process, the knowledge dissemination plan was a bit vague, there was no explanation for where the 'savings' from the first phase of the project will be allocated in the budget, and a significant portion of the budget was allocated for professional services that I was unable to account for in the explanation of the project.
